INVESTMENT POLICY

The fund seeks to outperform the Thomson Reuters Convertible Global Focus Index in euro in the mid-term. To attain this objective, the strategy will rely on an active management of interest, currency and credit risks and on our stock-picking approach.

The portfolio is mainly invested in convertible bonds, exchangeable bonds, bonds with equity warrants, perpetual preferred shares, corporate and financials traded debt, sovereign debt, French law money-market and bond funds (whether or not UCITS-compliant) invested in bonds and other types of Euro-denominated debt (10% maximum), and shares resulting from a conversion of the above-defined instrument types (10% maximum). All returns are net of fees and total return.

FUND MANAGERS' COMMENT - Arnaud BRILLOIS

During the month of January 2021, Lazard Convertible Global PC EUR share class returned -0,18% versus 0,73% for its benchmark (Thomson Reuters Global Focus Convertible EUR). The fund's equity sensitivity slightly decreased during the period, standing at 62,0% versus 55,8% for the benchmark at the end of the month. Our equity exposure overweight, particularly in the US, detracted to relative performance with lower equity markets over the month. Modified duration slightly increased over the month, while remaining below the benchmark, standing at 1.89 versus 2.12. Sensitivity to interest rates had a neutral impact to relative performance. Credit spreads widening both in the US and Europe, in the high yield space in particular, detracted to absolute performance but added to relative performance as the fund carries lower credit risk than its benchmark. Security selections in semiconductors, energy and pharmaceuticals added to relative performance but our overweight to the aeronautic industry and global ecommerce detracted to relative performance over the month. Our underweight to Chinese real estate and a specific video streaming services provider also costed in relative terms over the month. Over the month, we reduced our exposure to US software, the automotive sector and European ecommerce. We added four new positions in US ecommerce, software and energy. We held a neutral exposure to the dollar over the month.
