MORNINGSTAR Overall ★★★★★

INVESTMENT POLICY

The fund seeks to outperform the Thomson Reuters Convertible Global Focus Index in euro in the mid-term. To attain this objective, the strategy will rely on an active management of interest, currency and credit risks and on our stock-picking approach.

The portfolio is mainly invested in convertible bonds, exchangeable bonds, bonds with equity warrants, perpetual preferred shares, corporate and financials traded debt, sovereign debt, French law money-market and bond funds (whether or not UCITS-compliant) invested in bonds and other types of Euro-denominated debt (10% maximum), and shares resulting from a conversion of the above-defined instrument types (10% maximum). All returns are net of fees and total return.

FUND MANAGERS' COMMENT - Arnaud BRILLOIS

During the month of April 2019, Lazard Convertible Global ID EUR share class returned +2.85% versus +1.50% for its benchmark (Thomson Reuters Global Focus Convertible in Euros). The fund's equity sensitivity increased during the period, currently standing at 53.5%, the benchmark's equity sensitivity also increased, now standing at 45.6%. Sensitivity to interest rates slightly decreased over the month and remains below the benchmark, standing at 1.03 versus 2.03. Our overweights to US and European equities had a positive relative impact. Our underweights to Asia did not detract due to additive bond selection. Our shorter duration compared to the benchmark marginally added to relative performance, 5-year EUR and USD swap rates increased during the period. Communication services and consumer cyclicals were the best relative contributors, while the industrial sector had a negative relative impact this month. Stock selection was positive over the month, four of our top five contributors are not found in the index. We sold Inmarsat 2023 and initiated four new positions during the month: Hubspot 2022 in the software sector, Okta 2023 in the cloud business, LEG Immo 2025 in real estate and Sika 2025 in the construction sector. During the period, the fund remained overweight USD and EUR against all other currencies.
