MANAGEMENT

MORNINGSTAR Overall ★★★★★

INVESTMENT POLICY

The fund seeks to outperform the Thomson Reuters Convertible Global Focus Index in euro in the mid-term. To attain this objective, the strategy will rely on an active management of interest, currency and credit risks and on our stock-picking approach.

The portfolio is mainly invested in convertible bonds, exchangeable bonds, bonds with equity warrants, perpetual preferred shares, corporate and financials traded debt, sovereign debt, French law money-market and bond funds (whether or not UCITS-compliant) invested in bonds and other types of Euro-denominated debt (10% maximum), and shares resulting from a conversion of the above-defined instrument types (10% maximum). All returns are net of fees and total return.

FUND MANAGERS' COMMENT - Arnaud BRILLOIS

During the month of July 2019, Lazard Convertible Global ID EUR share class returned +3.37% versus +2.65% for its benchmark (Thomson Reuters Global Focus Convertible in Euros). The fund's equity sensitivity decreased during the period, currently standing at 49.4%, the benchmark's equity sensitivity also decreased, now standing at 41.3%. Sensitivity to interest rates increased over the month, now higher than the benchmark, standing at 2.40 versus 2.18. Security selection had a positive impact overall: out of benchmark positions in US e-commerce and software strongly added to relative performance. European picks in the aerospace and video game sectors also added to relative performance. Our underweight to Asia detracted, although security selection was positive with five of our six best securities not in the index. Selections in consumer, non-cyclicals and underweights to basic materials detracted to relative performance. Duration, which is now in line with the benchmark, marginally added to absolute performance, as the 5-year EUR swap rate decreased during the period. We sold our Baozun position and added exposure to telecommunications (for example Telecom Italia) and to technology (in the sub-sectors of gaming and software services). During the period, the fund remained overweight USD against all other currencies.
