INVESTMENT POLICY

The fund’s target is to reach, over a recommended investment 5-year period, a greater return net of fees than the Thomson Reuters Global Focus Hedged (EUR) Convertible Bond Index in euros, hedged against a foreign exchange risk, the euro being the reference currency with reinvested net coupons. The stock returns may be adjusted by possible foreign exchange hedging costs.

FUND MANAGERS' COMMENT - Arnaud BRILLOIS

During the month of April 2019, Lazard Convertible Global Hedged - T H-EUR share class returned +2.56% versus +1.29% for its benchmark (Thomson Reuters Convertible Global Focus Euro Hedged). The fund’s equity sensitivity increased during the period, currently standing at 53.5%, the benchmark’s equity sensitivity also increased, now standing at 45.6%. Sensitivity to interest rates slightly decreased over the month and remains below the benchmark, standing at 1.03 versus 2.03. Our overweights to US and European equities had a positive relative impact. Our underweights to Asia did not detract due to additive bond selection. Our shorter duration compared to the benchmark marginally added to relative performance, 5-year EUR and USD swap rates increased during the period. Communication services and consumer cyclicals were the best relative contributors, while the industrial sector had a negative relative impact this month. Stock selection was positive over the month, four of our top five contributors are not found in the index. We sold Inmarsat 2023 and initiated four new positions during the month: Hubspot 2022 in the software sector, Okta 2023 in the cloud business, LEG Immo 2025 in real estate and Sika 2025 in the construction sector.
