MANAGERS' COMMENT - ASSET ALLOCATION

Equity markets rebounded in September, with the easing of trade relations between the United States and China outweighing concerns over the attack on two oil installations in Saudi Arabia, disappointing economic indicators in China and the United States, tensions in the US money market and the opening of an impeachment procedure against Donald Trump. In local currency, dividends reinvested, the Eurostoxx gained 3,7%, the S&P 500 1,9%, the Topix 6,0%, and the MSCI emerging equities index in dollars 1,9%. The ICE BofAM government bond index fell by 0,4% as the German 10-year yield rose by 13 basis points, despite further accommodative announcements from the ECB. In the euro-denominated credit compartment, the iBoxx indices fell by 0,8% for the investment grade corporate bond index, by 0,6% for the financial subordinated debt index and by 0,2% for the euro liquid high yield index. The euro depreciated by 0,8% against the dollar but appreciated by 0,8% against the yen.

The fund benefited from the rise in equities and from a lower sensitivity to Eurozone government bond yields than its benchmark index. It also benefited from its negative sensitivity to the US 10-year Treasury yield, which rose 17 basis points.

At the beginning of September, we set up a compartment to manage the exposure to US equities via live securities, replacing futures on the S&P 500 index. We strengthened the subordinated debt fund, which focuses on the Tier 1 Lazard Capital Fi segment (for 1.9% of assets). In order to rebalance the overweighting between the two zones, we reduced European equities by 1% in favour of US equities. Lastly, the Fund's exposure to equities was adjusted by -0,5% as part of the month-end rebalancing (CAC 40 at 5 678/Euro Stoxx 50 at 3 569).

BOND MANAGERS' COMMENT

September saw renewed optimism over the China-US trade talks, which prompted a general rise in sovereign bond yields. However, the reduction in Italian yields that we witnessed in August on the back of a new coalition government being formed continued. The ECB announced a series of measures: (1) a 0,10% cut in the deposit rate, taking it to -0,50%; (2) the introduction of a tiering mechanism aimed at mitigating the effect of (1) on banks' income statements; (3) the restart of a QE programme of €20 billion, for an indefinite period. In America, the Fed cut its rates by 25 bps because of uncertainties partly surrounding the trade talks.

There were contrasting fortunes for different types of credit in September, with senior credit fairly stable while corporate hybrid debt and, to a lesser extent, financial subordinated bonds delivered outperformance. The spread against government bonds was stable for senior financial credit at 95 bps, widened by 1 bp to 111 bps for IG corporate credit and narrowed by 1 bp to 178 bps for financial subordinated credit and by 7 bps to 206 bps for corporate hybrid debt (Merrill Lynch indices).

The structure of the bond portfolio was kept virtually unchanged against a backdrop of sharply rising benchmark rates and a slight outperformance by credit. We are more positive on credit and less so on sovereign issuers, with a preference for financial subordinated bonds.

EQUITY MANAGERS' COMMENT

In the first half of September, the market experienced a very significant thematic and sectoral shift from “growth/momentum” to “value/cyclical”. This change was accompanied by a slight increase in European interest rates, with the Bund yield rising during the opening fortnight of the month from a staggering -0,72% to a slightly less staggering -0,45%. However, there was a quick reversal, with rates starting to fall again, the Fed expressing concern, the price of oil leaping 10% (before shedding all these gains) as a result of the attack in Saudi Arabia and risk aversion once again dominating the equities market, although this managed to end the month up 3,66%. Thanks primarily to healthcare, industrial goods and insurance stocks. It was hindered by poor performances from Unilever, Atos, Wartsila (which issued a profit warning) and Kerry Group, but benefited from gains at ASML, Axa, Ryanair, Saint-Gobain and KBC, among others.
